Together for Christmas at MP

If you ask people what Christmas means to them I suspect most would say it's about coming together to share in the spirit of the season. And lots of food.

At MP we see your family as part of our family, and each Christmas we try to create opportunities for sharing time and celebrating together.

Last week residents from each floor—as well as friends and family—had a chance to partake in a Christmas Celebration Service in our chapel with carols and scripture, followed by baked treats and family photos.

This week we are serving Christmas lunches with turkey and all the fixings, as well as red velvet cake. We also handed out Christmas cards made with love by students at École South Pointe School—my son Elliott's school. Students from the school made about 100 cards!

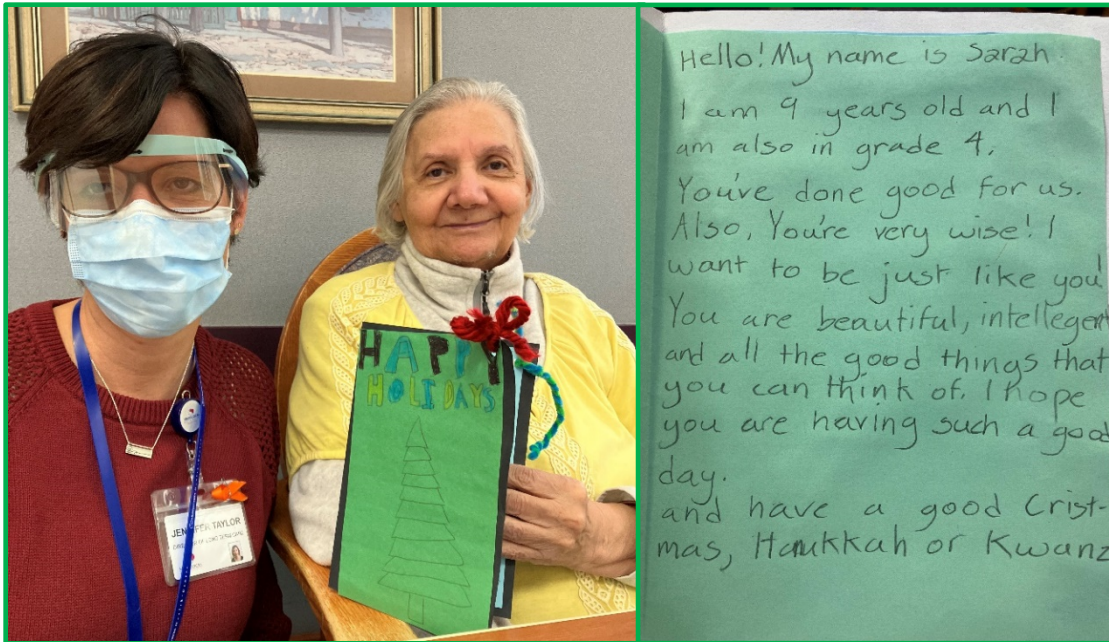

These times are important and precious,
and we feel honoured to be able to share
them with your loved ones.

From all of us at MP to all of you, may your season be filled with joy and good health.
Merry Christmas!
